

SPAIN

ALBERTO MOLINERO

He studied at the Santo Domingo de la Calzada Hospitality School and gained experience working in restaurants such as El Celler de Can Roca, Las Rejas, or Paul Bocuse in Lyon, as well as in other restaurants in Italy and England. Recognized as the Best Chef of Castilla y León in 2007 and nominated as a Revelation Chef at Madrid Fusión 2009, he won the Bocuse d'Or for Castilla y León in 2013, becoming the runner-up in Spain in the same competition in 2014. His impressive entrepreneurial journey with the La Roca Group includes the opening of various restaurants, such as La Roca Miranda in 2014 and La Roca Boadilla del Monte in 2022. In November 2023, he achieved the coveted Michelin Star with Erre de Roca. Currently, he leads the La Roca Group, which comprises seven restaurants, an event venue, and a central kitchen.

